KNOWLAND WELCOMED

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

MOST AMUSING ENTANGLEMENT OF THE WEEK DEPARTMENT: E. D. Briggs, R. Briggs, P. Briggs, and a NEW DOG making a Pilgrim's Progress from Grove Street up Broad and back, ensconced in 24 (count them) feet of quarter inch hemp rope. The New Dog, who had (ouch) lots of personality, had more fun that was humanly possible. AFTERMATH NOTE: W. Briggs, who claimed he was indifferent to the dog, came back from the Alpha next day with a brand new collar and chain.

THREE GOOD REASONS TO DRINK YOUR MORNING COFFEE IN A CAFE THAT IS ALSO A SALOON: 1—You can listen to wonderful juke box recordings like Cincinnati Lou. 2—You will run into those two interesting fellows around town who DRINK. 3—When you come out of the saloon at 10 a. m. you will bump into some mature ladies who will suck in their breath and at the next social say, he's at it again(remember back in 1935 at Broad and Pine Street etc. etc. Faithful readers able to add to our collection of GOOD REASONS are welcome to write in about them, and those who enclose $3 will get a year's subscription to the Nugget.

BEST SUNTAN IN TOWN: Ward Sheldon's. He got it at King's Beach up at the Lake. King's is the best beach on the Lake to swim, says Ward.

AT LAST I'VE FOUND SOMEONE WHO AGREES WITH MY VIEW THAT NEVADA CITY NEEDS A CITY MANAGER: Bob Payne agrees.

SIGNS OF OTHER TIMES DEPARTMENT: The thermometer in the entrance to the Sierra Hotel advertising Copenhagen chewin terbacy. Kin I borry a chew podner?

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE: If you swear in the Alta Sheet Metal Works on the Nevada City-Grass Valley Highway, it'll cost you money. They have a "Profane Kitty" tacked up on the wall. I looked around for a cursing cat that I thought might live in the box labeled profane, but discovered (Damn it all) it was to put money in.

HAPPINESS NOTE: After months of long distance telephone calls, hot telegrams, worry etcetera, we finally got a ton of newsprint, enough to last us four or five months at least.

CHILDREN ARE MEAN DEPARTMENT: I bought my 3 year old son something called a goofy ball the other day at Schuldt Hardware store. It's a trick plastic spheroid (I said spheroid—just looked it up in the dictionary) with all the weight on one side (hemisphere to you). You roll it along the floor, it goes in a hop skip and jump and no matter how hard you try, it won't roll straight. Well to make a long story interminable, I went to great pains to demonstrate to young H. just how to get the most fun out of the Goofy Ball. And then, just to show you how ungrateul he was, he took the spheroid with the irregular metacentric hemisphere, and won't let me play with it any more! See what I mean, children are mean!

GOLD DUST TWINS: Mrs. Innis and Mrs. Bettles. Now they even wear look-alike harlequin glasses with blue-grey rims. Mighty confoozin.

UP AND AROUND DEPARTMENT: Betsy Bennett, fit as a fiddle, ready to go back to schoolmarming in Patterson.

PHYSICIANS HAVE SOUND HEALTH ASSOCIATION

By Clem Whitaker

A voluntary partnership between physician and patient—to take the economic shock out of illness by a system of pre paid medical and hospital care—is both legally sound and "service of a high order" to the state and community.

That far reaching decision handed down a few days ago by the State Supreme Court ,has not only put the high tribunal's seal of approval on California Physicians' Service, the non profit, prepaid medical care plan sponsored by the California Medical Association but is also of important significance to budget basis medicine systems throughout the nation.

There are more than 30 states in which medically operated, prepaid health systems, patterned after the rapidly growing California Physicians' Service have been established —and millions of persons are prepaying their doctor and hospital bills under the nation wide program.

Upholding the right of physicians and patients to cooperate in a nonprofit health service corporation, and ruling ahtCPS is not an insurance company but a volutary prepaid medical care program, the supreme court declared in its sweeping decision:

"Probably there is no more impelling need than that of adequate medical care on a voluntary basis. The medical professsion, unitedly is endeavoring to meet that need. Unquestionably this is a service of a high order and not indemnity."

The decision written by Justice Douglas L. Edmonds, pointed out that the state legislature specifically authorized health service corporations under Sections 953A of the Civil Code and emphasized that CPS is a non profit organization and not subject to regulation by the state insurance commission.

The growing popularity of prepaid budget basis medicine was spotlighted by the fact that California Physicians' Service during the period the supreme court case was pending, increased its membership from 100,000 to more than 265,000 and the number of doctors participating from 5000 to 7400.

With the California Medical Association currently engaged in a state wide educational campaign to acquaint the people with the advantages of pre paid medical care, free from government regimentation more than 100 private health insurance companies operating in the state also have experienced a tremendous growth—and more than 3,000,000 men, women and children in California now have some form of budget basis medical protection.

Said John Hunton, CMA executive secretary:

"The decision of the supreme court constitutes a splendid victory for our voluntary health program. We are proving in California what we long have contended: that there is nothing government can do for citizens in the field of health insurance which they cannot do for themselves—and do better, at less cost."

OPA Spare Stamp 51 Good For Sugar Sept. 1

Spare stamp 51 in family ration books will be made good September 1, for five pounds of sugar for regular consumer use and will be valid through December 31 the OPA announced today At the same time OPA announced that spare stamp 49 will continue to be good for five pounds of sugar through September 30.

By extending for 30 days from August 31 through September 30, the period for which the current spare stam for sugar is valid, OPA will make it possible for housewives in certain local shortage areas to cash in their stamps.

Maldistribution largely caused by the difficulty of getting boxcars to ship sugar from producing areas to deficit consuming areas, has had the effect of making it impossible for housewives in certain section of the country to cash their stamps for sugar.

CARS SOON READY FOR DISABLED VETERANS

Application forms for free automobiles for veterans who lost the use of one or both legs in World War II will be available in about two weeks at all Veterans Administration offices, Robert P. Shields, VA regional manager here announced today.

At the same time, Shields clarified many of the questions being asked by California's 900 amputees who are eligible for the automobiles under a $30,000,000 appropriation voied in the last congress.

Only World War II veterans entitled to "compensation for the loss, or loss of use of, one or both legs at or above the ankle" are eligible. Thus not only leg amputees but paraplegics (men with severed spinal cords) will be eligible. Arm amputees and World War I veterans are not included in benefits of the law.

The law provides a $1600 price limit, and this $1600 must be the total purchase price, including all special appliances necessary for the veteran to operate the car, Shields pointed out. Thus, a veterans cannot purchase a higher priced machine and pay the difference himself. Nor can he in turn in a used car to apply on the price as the VA may pay only to the seller and cannot reimburse veterans for cars laready purchased.

Shields conceded that because of higher freight rates, veterans in West Coast states will be confined in their choice to lower priced autos.

The following procedure has been set up by VA for veterans desiring cars:

1 The disabled veteran will obtain his application blank from his nearest VA contact office or by applying in person or writing to Veterans Administration, Regional Office, 49 Fourth Street, San Francisco.

2 Every eligible veteran, except retired officers, must mail his completed application form to the regional office having jurisdiction over his compensation claim. There the form will be processed and entry will be made as to his eligibility. The form will then be returned to the veteran. Retired officers must mail their applications to the Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

3 The disabled veteran will present his approved form to his local operator's licensing agency. There a further entry will be made, certifying his ability to operate the car and specifying the attachments necessary in his particular case. If the veteran has no driver's license, it will be necessary for him to obtain one.

4 Once properly approved the veteran may take his applcation form to any dealer of his choice and negotiate for the automobile.

The veteran must pay no money himself to the dealer. On delivery of the car the dealer can submit necessary papers to the VA regional office for prompt payment.

VA cannot reimburse veterans for cars already purchased, Shields said he had been advised by Washington. All claims for cars must be completed by June 30, 1947.

Six Counties Join In UN Site Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—Representatives of six San Francisco bay area counties are now working together to obtain the permanent site of the United Nations for this region, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce reported this week. The counties represented are San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin, Contra Costa and Alameda.

Meanwhile Louis B. Lundborg the manager of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce which is spearheading the U. S. headquarters campaign returned from New York and Washington to report there is still a longshot chance of the world capital being located in the bay raea.

BIG OVATION FOR SENATOR'S STAND ON YUGOSLAV CRISIS

An enthusiastic gathering of Nevada County leaders this morning welcomed Senator William Knowland and Mrs. Knowland at a breakfast at the Bret Harte Inn in Grass Valley. The breakfast which began at 8:30 a. m. was organized by C. Raymond Clinch, Nevada County campaign manager for Knowland.

Knowland, who was introduced by Harley Leete, Jr. of Nevada City, spoke to the enthusiastic audience of 50 upon both domestic and international topics. He related his work on the Mead Committee and the Congressional committee for atomic affairs, pointing out inadequacies of the present administration, and sketch the Republican program of constructive work.

He called upon his hearers to do their share in assuming the awful responsibility of the atomic bomb, and expressed himself as "being unalterably opposed to making available atomic secrets to any other nation." This expression drew a warm ovation from the assembled representatives of Grass Valley and Nevada City.

Knowland advocated a "tough" stand toward the aggressive impudence of Jugoslavia and stated that he himself was taking direct action in one phase of the dispute. Three American soldiers he stated were being detained in Yugoslavia and though not in any way connected with recent incidents, were unable to secure exit visas to leave the country.

Representatives of the War and State departments, Knowland said, had gone to Yugoslavia authorities "hat in hand" to plead for the release of these men from their unwilling internment in the Balkan country. So far the might and majesty of the United States had been completely thwarted in this matter.

On receipt of an urgent message from parents of one of the soldiers, Knowland said, he had immediately wired the Secretary of War requesting a detailed report on the situation.

A prompt report was forthcoming and word that the War Department, together with the State Department would press efforts to have the men released. Knowland stated that he sent a wire from Marysville last night to the War Department stating that if the three Americans were not released by this Saturday noon, he intended to take the immediate action of circularizing his fellow members of the United States Senate, requesting their co-operation on an immediate embargo of all UNRRA supplies to Yugoslavia, as well as the immediate cessation of all other United States aid to that country.

Hearty applause expressed the approval of Nevada County civic leaders for Knowland's declaration.

The breakfast meeting terminated at 9:30 a. m. Senator Knowland, accompanied by Mrs. Knowland, C. Raymond Clinch of Grass Valley, and Nevada City civic leaders, drove to Nevada City following the meeting.

They stopped on the way to examine the uncompleted structure of the Memorial Hospital on Shaw's Hill, a project in which the Senator expressed interest. After this the party proceeded to Nevada City to meet citizens prevented from attending the meeting by the press of business.

Senator Knowland's itinerary today includes a trip to Auburn via Colfax. He and his party will have lunch in Auburn and leave Auburn after lunch for Placerville.

SHERIFF NAMES TRUCKEE DEPUTY HAROLD HOBSON

Following the authorization of the county board of supervisors of appointment of a deputy sheriff serve in the Truckee area, Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen yesterday announced that Harold H. Hobson had been named to fill the post.

The sheriff said that for the first time in its history, Truckee now is served with a full time deputy sheriff. Hobson for two years was supervisor or civilian police at McClellan Field. He is also a veteran of the late war having served in the navy three years.

Short term prisoners, the sheriff said, will now be confined in the Truckee jail and long term prisoners will be brought, as usual, to the county jail.

BARBECUE OPENS DRIVE FOR FUND FOR NEW CHURCH

A Grass Valleyy home coming and reunion barbecue, the opening gun in a campaign to raise funds for the building a new St. Patrick's Catholic Church in this city, will be given on Sunday, September 22 in Watt Park. The church was erected in 1858 and lacks but 12 years of being a century old.

The decision to build a new church was made last week at a meeting of church officers and the membership. The cost of repairing the present building it was estimated would be $40,000. The membership decided to build a new edifice.

The design of the new church is still tentative but architecturally many members lean toward the California Mission style. It is expected that the building will cost $100,000.

The barbecue will be the first benefit event toward raising the funds needed. Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen has agreed to undertake the duty of barbecue chief.

A BOOMING INDUSTRY

A few years ago, no one had even heard of the frozen food industry. Today it is just about California's lustiest infant, and growing every minute.

Take a look at the figures. In five years California's frozen fruit output has increased nearly 30 fold. And in the same period the frozen vegetable pack has risen nearly 800 per cent.

In 1945 the industry had grown to the point where the freeze pack for California apricots totalled 44,768,160 pounds, for peaches 49,900,000 pounds; for apples and apple sauce 44,768,160 pounds. The came was true of vegetables—12,370,000 pounds of beans, 8,675,000 pounds of broccoli, 8,414,530 pounds of spinach frozen in 1945.

As time passes more and more processes are being evolved which increase the varieties of crops that can be marketed after freezing. These new processes plus a growing demand for frozen fruits and vegetables should bring the ultimate output of the industry into truly astronomical figures.

All of which is mighty good news to agricultural California.—Contributed.

THE CENTENNIAL YEARS

California communities have every reason to be "centennial conscious" these days.

One hundred years ago history was being made in the very places which we now consider prosaic. For the next four years, hardly a month will pass without the 100th anniversary of some event around which a California community could build a colorful celebration. For between 1946 and 1850, this state of ours witnessed such stirring affairs as the fight for independence, the tragic epic of the Donner Party, the granting of statehood and the gold rush.

Under the leadership of the California State Chamber of Commerce, many areas are already planning centennial observances. For this work the state chamber deserves the utmost credit. But there is much which can still be done under the sponsorship of communities and individuals.

INTER COUNTY COOPERATION

San Francisco, birthplace of the United Nations, has never given up the idea that the permanent capital of the UN should be located in the bay area. Today the fight for the UN headquarters is still being waged, not by San Francosco alone, but by six bay counties.

It is the hope of those conducting the campaign that the world capital will be located somewhere in San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin or Contra Costa counties. There is some chance that the fight will be successful. But win or lose, those six counties have demonstrated graphically how regional rivalry can be submerged in the interests of all.—Contributed.

SAFETY PATROLS ASK DRIVER COOPERATION

Watch out for and cooperate with the School Safety Patrols, the California State Automobile Association urges in an appeal to motorists to help these young sentinels of safety protect their schoolmates from traffic hazards..

As schools re-open for the fall term, the school safety patrols are taking up their posts of duty at intersections near schools. Drivers are requested to be on the alert for these patrols and to take it easy in school zones..

Much depends on motorist cooperation, the automobile association states because school safetypatrols authority extends only to the school children and not to the motorist. The patrols are not authorized to attempt to control or to direct traffic, their function being to assemble the school children at the curb and to hold them until traffic has cleared sufficiently to permit a safe crossing.

DOVES ARE SCARCE

Due to cold weather in the foothills, hunters report that doves this year are rather shy and fed in numbers. Many were noted flying high toward the valley.

Local hunters who were fortunate enough to bag a limit on the opening day were Leslie Cicogni, Al Simmons, Ray Pengally, Ben Jenkins and Ben Waddelow.

"Miss Chicago"

It's a model girl and a model house. Cloris Leachman, who has just been named "Miss Chicago," will compete in "Miss America" finals in September at Atlantic City. Here she displays something new in models — a miniature house made with a new plastic building set manufactured by the Du Page Plastics Company of Chicago. The set will also make its national debut in September.

WHEN DEPRESSION STRIKES DEBTORS HARDEST HIT

By Ralph H. Taylor

Out of the deep south comes news indicative of an enflationary surge such as that which followed the first World War. Cotton mills are selling like hot cakes at incredibly inflated prices. The sellers are southerners long in the milling business. The buyers, for the most part, are well-heeled Yankees who are staging a modern day money invasion across the Mason-Dixon line.

One cotton mill in North Carolina bought by a southern mill operator 10 or 12 years ago for $250,000 was sold recently to an eager Yankee buyer for $4,000,000.

Of this deal, Robert Hanes, a Winston Salem banker, commented: "The seller has put his money into government bonds, and hopes to get his mill back at half price in less than five years."

The buyers, of course, are counting on boom prices for cotton fabrics for many years to come. They are manlfacturers of consumer cotton goods and finished cotton cloth (ready for use in dresses, etc.), and believe it good business to buy mills at any price to assure themselves of supplies of the basic fabric.

The sellers, on the contrary have bitter memories of the 1926-1939 period when their output became a steady glut on the market, and losses obliged some owners to sell their mills for whatever they would bring —depressed prices at best.

At the recent annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association, it was predicted by Dr. C. T. Murchison, head of the Cotton Textile Institute, that the present scarcity of cotton textiles may end with the suddenness with which a parallel scarcity ended in 1920. At that time, goods were dumped upon apparently starved and insatiable market. But the goods overloaded the market and the result was a disastrous slump in prices.

He warned that if OPA pricing inadequacies and tardiness in price adjustments continue, a tremendous reserve of goods held off the market in expectancy of better conditions will finally break through in a flood of merchandise — with consequent price collapses and bankruptcies and unemployment in the mills.

This situation, reflecting possible over-pessimism on one hand and almost certain over optimism on the other hand, is worth objective scrutiny. The law of averages and the weight of economic experience in this country are on the side of the mill owner who sells his plant at a fantastically inflated price and against the man who buys it.

Millions of American farmers and city businessmen as well learned the folly of investing heavily under inflated market conditions during the post war reconversion of a generation ago. The situation then was such as it is today, although in lesser degree, since the first world war was hardly a third as long as the second. But then as now all classes of people prospered.. Farmers made more money, industrialists and retailers made more money, skilled and unskilled workers made more money.

After the first war, as after this one, people had piled up savings—and thousands plunged into the speculative sea that has lured the man who paid four million dollars for a cotton mill inflated in price sixteen fold.

Hundreds of thousands of farmers wound up after the World War I reconversion joyride in a slough of debt. Mistakenly foreseeing an inflationary market as permanent, they bought additional land at prices so swollen that they were obliged to mortgage it to the barn rafters. When the inflation receded, and the market volume and prices alike diminished, the equities of such investors—representing all their war savings—were wiped out.

There are however, two highly disturbing factors in the current situation which did not exist following World War I. We did not then, as now, have bureaucratic government controls over virtually every element in our economy, nor a New Deal philosophy of deficit spending to give the people every imaginable benefit they can afford and even more that they cannot possibly afford. Nor did we then, as now have a crushing public debt of 300 billion dollors. These two factors are operating to increase the peril of runaway or permanent inflation—which would be an indirect manner of repudiating the public debt as France repudiated nine tenths of her public deft following World War I.

Nevertheless in fact of the uncertain future and the degree of inflation we already have it would seem the part of prudence for each business and individual to get rid of debt obligations in these times. The man who owes nothing has less to fear from economiic cyclones, from whatever direction they may come.

Bright Comedy At Broadway, Friday, Saturday

Coming to the Nevada Theatre screen Friday and Saturday is "Cinderella Jones" starring two of Hollywood's brightest luminaries, Joan Leslie and Robert Alda.

Story: Joan Leslie, a simple minded radio singer learns that she will inherit 10 millions from a deceased relative if she marries by a certain time. Her prosperous husband must have an intelligence quotient of at least 150. At the time she learns the news, she has been seeing quite a bit of Robert Alda band leader and since she is cerain that he doesn't have a very high IQ, and as uncertain as to whether she loves him, she decides to look elsewhere. She tries to meet a mate by enrolling in a male technical school and succeeds when she promises to buy the school a new chemistry laboratory. Professor William Prince, unaware of the faculty's decision, turns her out. When Professor S. Z. Sakall reveals all to him he tries to make up with Leslie who has decided to make a job in the campus cafeteria in the nearby town, feeling that she can still attract a smart mate. His efforts at reconcilliation fall flat. Leslie rooms with a female taxi driver, Julie Bishop who is romantically inclined toward Prince. Alda meanwhile has gotten an engagement near the town and sees Leslie often. Later Prince thinks himself in love with Leslie and she feels inclined toward him, and they decide to get married in time to get the inheritance. At the last moment Leslie finds that Alda really has a very high IQ and was graduated with honors and also that she really loves him, while Prince finds himself amorously inclined towards Bishop and they decide to make it a double wedding. They get married with the aid of the army.

PTA Head Says Go Out And Vote

This is no time for sideline quarterbacking about state, national nad world affairs—it is time to register and then to vote if America is to be recognized as the leading world power, Mrs. Rollin Brown, Los Angeles president of the California Congress of Parents nad Teachers, avers. She has pronounced views upon the necessity oregistering before September 26.

"Many sideline quarterbacks have suggestions for the Paris Peace Conference and for the coming United Nations general assembly—but the suggestion most likely to have the greatest effect upon world opinion is that offered by the alarmingly small vote cast at our recent primary and special election.

"'Does anyone think that our failure to look after our local affairs and evince an interest in the congress is not observed by foreign powers and interpreted as indecision or indifference—or both? The congress must ratify any peace treaties and implement United Nations for America."

New OPA Ceilings For Canned Salmon

Consumers will pay about four cents more for a one pound can of pink salmon and about six cents more for a one pound can of Alaska red salmon as a result of an increase made August 30 in canners maximum prices, the OPA has announced.

This action was taken because the Department of Agriculture notified the OPA that it was necessary to encourage production. Under the new price control law OPA must put into effect price increases of this type when they are recommended by the Department of Agriculture.

INDEPENDENCE DAY 1846 WAS GALA EVENT

Editor's Note: These are California's Centennial years. From 1846 to 1850 history was being made—the fight for independence from Mexico the coming of the land hungry emigrants, the gold rush, the sudden growth of sleepy pueblos into bustling cities. Because of the remarkable opportunity this anniversary period offers many California communities to celebrate their historic beginnings, the regional service committee has prepared a series of articles plotting the course of events during those exciting years. This is the third.

Independence Day, 1846 meant a great deal to the American settlers who were fighting for California's independence from Mexico. They had captured Sonoma and hoisted the Bear Flag. They had routed the Californians in a series of skirmishes. They had a leader—the colorful Captain John C. Fremont. And a fleet of American warships was off Monterey.

Small wonder, then that July 4 saw a gala celebration at Sonoma. The Declaration of Independence was read. Salutes were fired. A grand ball was held at the home of the captured General Vallejo. Also the bear flag party was reorganized, with Fremont as chief and his band of explorers was merged with the settlers as the California Battalion of Mounted Riflemen.

Three days later the armed might of the United States government moved swiftly into the picture. From the ships Savannah, Cyane and Levant boatloads of marines and sailors landed on the customs house wharf at Monterey. A proclamation by Commodore Sloat announcing that 'henceforth California will be a portion of the United States" was read. At 10:30 o'clock on the morning of July 7, the American Flag rose slowly over the customs house.

On July 9 the Americans moved on Yerba Buena, San Francosco, Commander John B. Montgomery taking a force of 70 men ashore from the warship Portsmouth and raising the flag in the town's plaza. Simultaneously Lieut. Joseph Revere grandson of Paul Revere, reached Sonoma assembled the bear flag forces there, lowered the bear flag and raised the American flag.

The news of all this reached Fremont's camp on the American River on July 10. The men received it with universal shouts. They partook of a cup of good brandy and sang some national airs. The next day the American flag was hoisted over Sutter's Fort. By this act the bear flag revolt was brought to a close. But there was still a war to be fought before California could be truly termed American soil. .

S. F. Mayor Competes In Fishing Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—A friendly fishing contest among the chief executives of four leading Pacific Coast cities took Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco to the little Columbia River town of Ilwaco, Washington last week.

The idea originated with Mayor William Devlin of Seattle, who challenged Lapham and Mayors Earl Riley of Portland and Fletcher Bowron of Los Anggles to test their skill at angling during the opening of the famous Columia River salmon run.

There are many kinds of cactus that will not grow in the desert.

REGULAR CLASSES FOR FIRST 500 TO ENROLL

The first five hundred students at Placer college will be accepted to all the regular classes. After five hunded, classes will be set up in noon and in the evening to take care of those who register after the five hundred. It is expected that between 600 and 700 students will eventnally enroll in the fall. The actual number as of August 31 was 517. College staff will have to be increased to take care of enrollment. We are going to attempt to take care of all of those who register by means of doubling up on classes, early morning classes, night and late afternoon classes, using the facilities that we have until such time that we receive emergency facilities from the federal works agency.

The Placerville school bus will go by way of Folsom this year. A test run made by Mr. Crabbe and Mr. Weaver proved that the school bus traveling time was the same as via Coloma. The advantages of the Folsom route are that greater comfort and safety will be enjoyed as well as a greater number of students will be transported.

Veterans' News

The new ceilings placed on incomes of veterans in training under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act by the recent congress will reduce government aid to large numbers of servicemen enrolled in on the job training but probably will make things easier for many in colleges and universities.

Under the new law, subsistence will be paid to veterans in training only where their wages with subsistence do not exceed $175 a month for a person with no dependents, or $200 if he has dependents.

However the same law permits the Veterans Administration to pay students in schools their full subsistence even if they are workng at full time jobs on the side provided their wages and subsistence pay combined do not exceed the established ceilings.

Heretofore, no veteran student in school under the servicemen's readjustment act could accept full time employment without sacraficing his subsistence pay.

Q: May I transfer from one college to another under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act?

A: Yes. A veteran may change his school, but he must have the approval of the VA in advance.

Q: I took out $5000 worth of insurance while I was in the service. Is it possible for me to increase that amount to the full $10,000 now?

A: Yes. The new insurance law makes this possible.

Q: Iis it possbile for one veteran to get the full $4000 guaranteee to buy a home and also the full guarantee of $2000 for a business loan?

A. No. If he gets the full loan guaranatee for one type of loan, he uses all his guarantee credit. He can however, use a percentage of his guarantee for one purpose and the remaining percentage for another.

Q: Can an amputee veteran get the money from the VA to buy a car—as provided for in the new bill which congress passed recently?

A. No. The law states that the VA will pay the seller the total purchase price on delivery of the car in accordance with the agreement made between the veteran and the dealer. Payment will be made up to $1600 for eligible veterans.

Q. Can a veteran buy a more expensive car by paying the difference himself?

A. No. $1600 must be the total purchase price.

Transamerica Earns 70 Cents a Share

Transamerica Corporation announced today that subject to audit, estimated consolidated net profits for the six months ended June 30, 1946 were $7,000,000 or 70 cents a share on the 9,935,650 shares of its stock outstanding. On July 31, 1846 dividends aggreating 40 cents a share were paid.

It was stated that the 1946 profit figure includes profits of $665,000 resulting from the sales of real estate by a wholly owned subsidiary, Capital Company. In previous years profits and losses from such sales were reflected in reserves for revaluation. The reserves for revaluation were allocated as of January 1, 1936 to adjust the net investment in real estate to the lower of depreciated cost or estimated market value.

U. S. Army Commends Capt. Wm. Rector

Headquarters, Panama Canal Department, Sept. 5—Captain William E. Rector of Nevada City has been recently awarded the Army Commendation ribbon it was announced this week at Quarry Heights, Headquarters, Panama Canal Department.

Captain Rector's award was in the form of a letter of commendation from Major John L. Homer, Deputy Commander, Panama Canal Department, in which he was highly praised for his work at the 368th Station Hospital, Fort Gulick, Canal Zone.

An extract from the letter to Captain Rector reads: "I commend you upon your application of your training and experience as a specialist in carrying out the duties of Chief Surgical Service in a superior manner.

Your willingness and ability to perform both minor and major operations with a staff of nurses and enlisted assistants inadequate in number are reflected in the consistantly outstanding results you have obtained."

Price Control Removed From Baby Foods

Removal from price control of baby foods and junior foods, including pre-cooked dry cereals sold as baby food or junior food is announced by OPA. The exemption applies to strained and chopped fruits and vegetables and other baby food preparations sold specifically for feeding children.

Milk modifiers such as dextrine and malt preparations or products used in preparation of infant feeding formulas remain under ceilings.

All sales of rubber footwear by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers have been suspended from price control. The action became effective August 30.

Rubber footwear is being suspended from control in compliance with a provision of the price control extension act of 1946 providing for removal of controls when the supply of any non agricultural commodity exceeds or is in balance with demand.

Retail ceiling price increases of from two to three cents for the popular 20 ounce sizes of prepared plain pancake and waffle mix well as for prepared buckwheat pancake mix, have been authorized by OPA. These increases are based on another action whch increases manufacturers ceiling prices on prepared plain buckwheat and wale mix by 1 3-4 cents a pound and those on prepared buckwheat pancake mix by two cents a pound.

New retail prices will not apply until the first shipments at the new rates are received by retailers.

PLACER COLLEGE HAS VETERANS GUIDANCE CENTER

An application is being made to the Federal Works Agency in San Francisco for the acceptance of school buildings and facilities to take care of the impending acute shortage of educational facilities other than housing for college students. These facilities are available under Public Law No. 697. Under this bill seventy five million dollars has been appropriated by the 79th congress. On the basis of need, California will receive more than its ordinary share of the hundred million dollars alloted under the bill. Seventy five million dollars has been appropriated with the understanding that the remainder twenty five million would be appropriated if the need is great enough.

College buildings which are war surplus materials, which already belong to the government and are surplus and have not been sold, are put on the sites provided by the institutions. They are set up in working condition, furnished completely and made ready for occupancy by the Federal Works Agency for students. They are of temporary nature. Most temporary sites would be useable for a minimum of ten years. It is estimated that the peak of the veteran enrollment will be reached from three to four years. The classrooms would be set up in the back of the college. After the application for the justification of need goes in, a committee to investigate this justification of need comes to approve it. The man in charge in this district which includes Arizona, California, Hawaii and Nevada, is Wright Felt of division engineer of the FWA, in the division of higher education. He will make a thorough survey of the situation. The Veterans Guidance Center will be setup directly under the veterans administration and Placer College.

The resignation of Harold Cox, who was formerly the Veterans Guidance counselor in the Placer College was accepted last evening to the board of trustees. Cox will be assigned by the veterans administration to head the guidance center here as an employee of the administration. Gordon N. Arlett was selected as a veteran's adviser for the college to work in the center. Arlett was the newly elected vice principal of the Placer Union high school and college in the Weimar Branch. He has been released from that job to take this one and a new vice principal is to be selected for the Weimar job. Arlett was a colonel in the United States army in the Anti Aircraft Division up until the beginning of this year when he returned to the Taft junior college to become a veterans counselor and supervisor of attendance. He served four and one half years, director of tudent welfare at the Taft junior high school and junior college for five years. He is a graduate of the University of California and was a member of the varsity football and baseball teams. He has purchased a home in the Channel Hill section and will move in with his wife and two daughters.

The guidance center in the Sacramento college took care of the veterans before it was set up here in Auburn. It will serve all veterans regardless of whether they will go back to school. It will cover all fields, agriculture training program, industrial field and any other type of guidance that a man wants. A battery of tests wlil be given. Consideration will be given to his former education and army service record in advising him as to his future plans.

Whether they'll be willing to stalk the wary elk, moose, or mountain goat next fall—after looking into those big brown eyes during the intervening months—is only of slight future concern to these two Seattle student taxidermists. Now Neil D. Roseboom (left) and Jack Allison are helping substantiate last season's story. Both are receiving practical instruction in the art through the Veterans Administration's on-the-job training program.

Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright: (Ecc. 7:29) This is the golden text for the Christian Science lesson sermon for Sunday, Sept. 8. The subject is Man.

The following citations are included in the sermon.

Luke 6:10: And looking round about them upon them all he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so; and his hand was restored whole as the other.

Science and Health with key to the scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being he does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real but is illusion the mirage of error. Divine science reveals these grand facts. On their basis Jesus demonstrated life, never fearing nor obeying error in any form. p. 243.
